PHIL MORLEY

Hospital chief in NHS credit card bill row

AN MP has written to health secretary Jeremy Hunt to express her concern over claims that new Princess Alexandra Hospital boss Phil Morley spent tens of thousands of pounds on his NHS credit card while chief executive of the Hull and East Yorkshire Hospitals NHS Trust.

Hull North MP Diana Johnson was responding to reports in the Hull Daily Mail that £50,000 had been spent on Mr Morley's card.

Mr Morley quit his £170,000-a-year role in Hull in April. A few weeks later it was announced he had taken over as chief executive of the PAH Trust.

In her letter to Mr Hunt, Ms Johnson said: "It has come to light that Mr Morley used NHS credit cards to purchase expensive restaurant meals and five-star accommodation in London. I am now even more concerned about Mr Morley's conduct while chief executive in Hull."

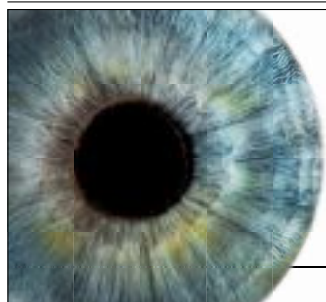

"I would, therefore, ask that you look into this matter and, in particular, his new appointment so quickly after leaving East Yorkshire with many questions to be answered."

While he would not comment on the circumstances of Mr Morley's departure, Mr Hunt said: "We have changed the rules to prevent people who are responsible for poor care popping up in another part of the system. From now on, when trusts appoint people to boards they can check their prior records on a central database administered by the CQC."

The revelations follow the news that the Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust reported a deficit of £16.5m in the financial year 2013/14. The hospital says it has a plan to reduce the deficit over the next three years.

Road hospital say staff morale is at an "all-time low".

One worker who contacted the Star said: "The atmosphere is horrendous. There's low staff morale and our workload has trebled. Morale is absolutely zero."

The employee said there were also rumours of redundancies.

This week a spokeswoman for the PAH Trust told the Star: "Phil Morley is an experienced acute hospital CEO and has worked in the NHS for over 30 years. His appointment followed a full and proper interview process involving key external stakeholders as well as stakeholders within the trust."

"His clear focus and commitment is to build on the hospital's achievements over the past few years and to lead the trust at a time when the NHS as a whole is facing challenges."

The spokeswoman added: "There are no plans currently to make any individuals redundant and we are actively recruiting a significant number of additional nursing and medical staff."

"As part of our cost improvement programme we will need to reduce our head count over the next three years and we will be reviewing every position as it becomes available, to ensure that the role is still necessary."

"However we aim to keep any redundancies to an absolute minimum and there will be no reduction in the number of frontline clinical posts."

Police investigating sex assault seek man for questioning

DETECTIVES investigating a sexual assault in Harlow Town Park 11 days ago have released a photo of a man they want to question.

The victim, a woman in her 40s from the Harlow area, told police the incident happened at about 4.30pm on Sunday, July 27.

She was with a man who she had met earlier in the day. He pulled her into a wooded area of the park, sexually assaulted her and then tried to rape her.

She shouted at him and ran away in the direction of School Lane.

This week police issued a picture of 22-year-old Miles Conlon who they want to talk to about the incident.

Detective Inspector Terry Balding said: "He was last known to be living in the Gravesend area of Kent. I'm keen to identify his whereabouts so we can speak to him about the offence and potentially eliminate him from our enquiries."

Mr Conlon is described as 5ft 6 ins tall with short dark hair and Anyone with information about the incident or knows of Mr Conlon's whereabouts is asked to contact the West Sexual Offences Investigation Team on 101, Crime-stoppers on 0800 555111 or email the incident room at SOIT@essex.pnn.police.uk.

Award for lorry driver in dog attack rescue

A LORRY driver has been presented with an award by the Royal Humane Society after saving the life of an American tourist who was being attacked by a pitbull.

Vince Rostron, who works for Crown Services in Station Road, Sawbridge-worth, was driving in Hackney in London when the incident occurred in February.

Mr Rostron, 53, said: "At first I thought he was a drunk person dancing in the street but then I realised he had this dog hanging off him."

Other people who witnessed the incident were in a state of shock but Mr Rostron said he did what he thought "seemed to be the right thing" and restrained the dog before tying its lead to a piece of street furniture.

Ten days after the attack he met the victim who had required surgery for his injuries and was left with major scarring.

He was thanked with a gift of flowers, chocolates and scotch. A fortnight later he received gifts of thanks from the victim's parents in America.

His employers also presented him with a special pen.

Mr Rostron, who lives in Buckinghamshire, was nominated for a Royal Humane Society award by his employer. The presentation of the framed citation on parchment took place at the DHL Nisa retail centre in River Way, Harlow, on Monday.

The award said Mr Rostron, at personal risk, had "courageously saved the life of a man who was being savagely attacked by a dog".

Mr Rostron played down his act of bravery, but admitted it was "gratifying" that someone had held his actions in such high regard.

Push for inclusivity signals demise of Church of England

SIR I don't know if Ron Bill is a practising Christian but his emphasis on the equality and diversity aspect of women becoming bishops (Letters, July 31) is entirely wide of the mark.

The issue is one of theology and doctrine underpinned by religious historical truth and apostolic certainty.

Jesus chose 12 men as his disciples/apostles. Many have argued that this was because of the times back then and that it has little bearing on today.

The problem facing the Church of England is that it is a splinter group out of communion with Rome and a state religion vulnerable to secular dictates. David Cameron has already attempted to redefine marriage, alienating a large percentage of the populace; now the Church of England is signalling its own demise.

What next? Openly gay bishops and adulterous clergy, all in the name of inclusivity?

Steven Harknett
Longbanks, HarlowEU flag is no better or worse than the cross of St George

SIR I had to chuckle at the kerfuffle raised by Conservative councillor Joel Charles regarding trying to get the flag of St George to replace the EU flag over the Civic Centre. (Star, July 31).

He says we should not be afraid of celebrating our national identity. Well considering St George was a Greek who never set foot in England and his red cross on a white flag was first adopted by Richard the Lionheart - a king of England who only spent six months of his life here and never spoke a word of English - I suggest the EU flag is no better or worse.

I realise the Tories are running scared of UKIP but they really must be a little more grown up with their politics.

Robert Johnson
HarlowNew councillor succeeded in getting potholes repaired

SIR Further to your story about potholes in the July 17 edition of the Star, can I just say thank you to councillor Dan Long and Harry Saunders for their part in getting the repairs started in Brays Mead.

After waiting for months and not getting any help from any previous councillors, it is refreshing to see new people getting things done for their constituents.

However, after two visits to repair the said potholes, Essex Highways has missed a medium sized hole outside number 50 so perhaps third time lucky.

Derek Saunders
Brays Mead, HarlowGovernment can easily stop the hospital car park rip-off

SIR I read with interest the letter in the Star from Robert Halfon regarding the hospital parking rip-off scandal.

Unfortunately the rip-off as he puts it was evoked by successive governments who believed it was good to rip-off the staff, users and their carers, with profit being their guiding light.

The saying the government knows the cost

PHOTOS OF THE WEEK

Reader Gary Lockwood, of Longbanks, Harlow, took this photo at Latton Common. He writes: "My wife and I were out for a walk when we saw this foal with it's mother. We stood watching it trying to get up and once it did it began to feed from it's mum."

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

of everything and the value of nothing is as valid today as it was under Thatcher, Major, Blair and Brown. It's very sad.

What is also very sad is that Mr Halfon supports that principle and therefore any petition will fail. I love the NHS but the Government holds it in complete contempt.

What Mr Halfon fails to acknowledge is that this disgraceful rip-off could easily be stopped by the Government. Will that happen? Of course not.

Gary Roberts
Carters Mead, HarlowLabour's spending free-for-all landed us in financial mess

SIR If councillors Andrew Johnson and Joel Charles make Robert Johnson laugh (Letters, July 10), his letter will have all Conservatives rolling in the aisles.

He fails to mention why the coalition has been forced to make cuts to Harlow and every other local authority across the land, as well as most government departments. It was the out-of-control spending they inherited from the last Labour government.

Not only was Labour spending all the country's revenues, it was also borrowing huge amounts on top, building up our national debt to such an extent that the country would have been bankrupt had it continued.

We simply could not afford it and the recession brought that reality home to us all with a bump. We will all be paying for it for decades to come.

But it didn't end there. Labour continued to argue that we should spend our way out of the recessions, maintaining public spending and continuing to grow the national debt so that our children and grandchildren could pay it off in generations to come. I am sure they would thank us.

This was a policy adopted by France. Compare the two economies now in terms of growth and employment.

If Labour had not been so fixated on its usual tax and spend policies and followed the more prudent routes adopted by countries such as Germany or Canada, perhaps we would not have had to make such drastic cuts to bring national borrowing under control.

I dread to think where we would be now if Labour had remained in power in 2010.

Michael Hardware
Great Brays, HarlowThe cost of clearing up after travellers is not acceptable

SIR Harlow is a town that welcomes people of all races and religions. Even travellers would be welcome but their behaviour is what makes them unacceptable.

When the travellers who were parked in Katherine's Way left the first time, the rubbish and human excrement was appalling. This time it's even worse; excrement along the pathways and riverbank and piles of rubbish strewn into the bushes next to the cycle track.

The cost to residents is not acceptable yet we are told we have a duty to make more traveller pitches to accommodate them.

The law needs changing to prevent them living near decent people. We certainly do not want more.

David Carter
Harlow (full address supplied)What we really need to see is some political leadership

SIR Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner is quoted in the Star as saying he "needs people to be willing to provide eyewitness information" of fly-tipping and/or littering by travellers illegally encamped in the town before the council would consider taking legal action.

I trust he was not suggesting that Harlow residents should risk becoming involved in an ugly scene in order to furnish the council with evidence that would be readily available to a council officer and the police if they were to make the effort.

To assist our financially-strapped local authority I would happily equip council officers with a video camera, a garden chair and a flask of tea. From past experience they need not have to sit for too long.

All Cllr Clempner need do is show some political leadership.

Embarrassed by long wait in
A&E after grandad had a fall

SIR I really thought that the A&E department at Princess Alexandra Hospital had improved its service but I was terribly embarrassed and upset at the service when my grandad had a fall.

We arrived before the ambulance which took him to the hospital. He was moved from department to department before waiting over four hours to be told he had a bruised rib.

This was a near 90-year-old who had on the same day been under anaesthetic for a biopsy which we had made the staff fully aware of. I understand equality but when is it OK to leave an elderly man waiting for four hours when he already had such a traumatic day!

J.M. Gillespie
address suppliedMemories of a man who had a profound knowledge of music

SIR Having seen the notice of the death of John Sothcott in the Star on July 17, I was surprised there has been no further reference to him.

In the 1980s and 1990s John was a well-known figure. He regularly gave concerts at The Playhouse and at St John's ARC in Old Harlow.

In 1965 he moved to Harlow and set up his own early music group, the St George's Canzona, which made many professional recordings as well as playing in prestigious venues in London and on the continent. He even played at the Proms and on one occasion played for the Queen.

The early stringed instruments he made were taken round local schools and demonstrated to the students.

John produced his own publicity and also took publicity photographs for The Playhouse, particularly for the ballet and local drama groups. He had a profound knowledge of music and will be greatly missed and remembered by many people.

Moira Jones

safety of office refurb work?

SIR Regarding the refurbishment of West Gate House in the town centre, I was amazed at the level of risk to all and sundry who dare to walk past this building on a daily basis with such dangerous overhead work being carried out. Am I the only person worried about this?

Council goes back to court over travellers

TRAVELLERS continued to play cat and mouse with council officials in Harlow this week as they moved to yet another site in the town.

Taxpayers look set to face further costs as the authority prepares to return to court after 10 caravans - five from Third Avenue and five from Howard Way and Second Avenue - moved to council-owned land at Southern Way and Pear Tree Mead.

Community safety officers visited this site on Tuesday and served the group with a direction to leave by 10am yesterday (Wednesday).

However, they failed to do so and the council said it would be instigating proceedings in the county court to remove them.

Six caravans which were illegally camped on land at Third Avenue have now moved to privately-owned land at Coldharbour Road. The council is working with the landowners to provide support and advice.

Council leader Jon Clempner, said: "We are again working as quickly as possible to issue court proceedings to the groups illegally encamped on council land if they do not leave when directed,

"We are also working closely with Essex County Council, the police and legal experts on a long-term solution to this continuing issue.

"As I have said previously, the council has also written to the Government and the Association of Police Officers requesting an urgent review of council powers and associated guidance, and we are awaiting a response.

"In addition, we continue to react to reports of travellers attempting to gain access to other areas and have been taking emergency preventative measures to protect these areas."

Meanwhile, Essex Police continues to monitor the sites on a daily basis.

The council has repeated its request to residents and businesses who see or have evidence of any criminal activity or anti-social behaviour relating to illegal encampments to report it to police on the non-emergency 101 number or, in the case of an emergency, on 999.

Harlow Council has published advice on its website for residents and businesses. This page can be found at www.harlow.gov.uk/illegal-encampments.

A GROUP of police officers from Essex has donated nearly £15,000 to a charity for children with cancer after taking part in several fundraising events in New York.

The 19-strong squad completed a half marathon around Central Park, took part in a 5km run and went to JFK Airport to pull an Airbus airliner in teams of 12 against other law enforcement agencies.

The Essex officers joined colleagues from the Metropolitan, Kent, Surrey, Sussex and British Transport Police forces raising money as Jack's PACK - Police Against Cancer in Kids - in aid of The Jack Foundation.

It was set up five years ago following the death of the son of two Metropolitan Police officers from childhood cancer neuroblastoma.

The aim of their foundation is to raise funds for research into this disease and to help children get treatment abroad when there is no option in the UK.

The Essex team was led by Sergeant Carl Habbershaw, who said: "It's such a worthy cause to be involved with. The work that is being done is incredible and much needed if a cure is to be found for it."

The Essex officers, who travelled to New York at their own expense, raised a total of £14,750 which was presented to the foundation by Assistant Chief Constable Julia Wortley at Essex Police headquarters in Chelmsford last month.

Gang member jailed for kidnap and blackmail

A HARLOW man who was part of a gang responsible for kidnapping and torturing a man and blackmailing his family has been jailed for more than 11 years.

Aaron Assante, 22, of Moorfield, and six other defendants from London pleaded guilty at the Old Bailey to charges of conspiracy to kidnap, conspiracy to falsely imprison and conspiracy to blackmail.

The other six defendants also received lengthy prison sentences.

The court was told the 20-year-old male victim had been abducted by the gang and held for nearly 24 hours.

During that time he was tortured and a ransom demand of £100,000 was made to his family for his release with the threat that he would be killed if it was not paid,

However, the victim was successfully rescued during an operation by armed police from the Metropolitan Police's Kidnap and Specialist Investigation Unit.

The court was told that on September 23 last year the victim had gone with a friend to jump-start his car after it had broken down in Beckton. While there, two other men took the victim's car keys and demanded £500 for their return.

Not knowing if the men were armed or not, the victim did not resist. However, after they had left he contacted an associate to see if he could help identify the men who had taken the keys and help him get them back.

The associate took the victim to a flat in London where they were met by a man later identified as one of the defendants. Once inside the victim was grabbed by another man and dragged into the living room where he was stripped of his clothes. He was then violently assaulted with punches, kicks, a Stanley knife and steam from an iron.

A demand of £100,000 for the victim's release was made in a phone call to his brother with the threat that if it wasn't paid within 20 minutes the victim would be killed. A second phone call made 15 minutes later had the victim screaming in pain as he was burned and assaulted.

Following this call the victim's brother called police and an immediate investigation was launched which ended in the capture of the gang members.

Green award for woodland burial ground

A WOODLAND cemetery is flying the flag for the environment after being included in a list of the best parks and green spaces in the country.

Greenacres Woodland Burials, which is set in 52 acres of mixed woodland off Kiln Lane, North Weald, has received a Green Flag Award from Keep Britain Tidy.

Opened in 2008 by broadcaster Kate Adie, the burial park has embarked on a programme of management which has ensured a thriving, native woodland supporting hundreds of species.

To celebrate receiving the award a flag-raising ceremony took place on Thursday.

Park spokeswoman Rita Ward said: "We are absolutely delighted to receive a Green Flag Award. This recognises and highlights that people in Essex are benefitting from a green space of the very highest quality."

Scheme manager Paul Todd added: "A Green Flag Award provides national recognition for all the parks managers, staff and volunteers who, through their dedication and hard work, have helped to create these fantastic places for everyone to enjoy.

"Quality green spaces are a vital resource for communities and that is why it is so significant that we have given out more awards than ever before."

Man made threats to kill cops after setting fire to ex-partner's car

A MAN who set fire to his former partner's car and made repeated threats to kill police officers has been spared a jail sentence.

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Instead, Robert Spicer, 39, of Wedgewood Drive, Harlow, was given a two-year suspended sentence and ordered to attend a building better relationship programme for 29 days.

He was also put on an intensive probation programme for 30 days.

Spicer pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to charges of arson, damaging the front door of a house at Fullers Mead, Harlow, threats to kill and four offences of assaulting police by spitting, all on May 31 this year.

The court was told that Spicer went to his former partner's home and hammered on the front door before defacing it with graffiti. He then started a fire inside her car and went home.

When police turned up to arrest him he brandished a large carving knife and threatened them, saying: "Come on, I'll f***** stab you, I'm gonna kill you, you f***** pigs."

He was taken to the police station where he spat at four officers.

Richard Stevens, prosecuting, said that in a telephone call to the parents of his ex partner Spicer said: "How would you like to see your beautiful daughter burning in her car?"

Peter Barlex, representing Spicer, said in mitigation: "He's deeply ashamed of his actions. He's embarrassed and at a loss to explain how matters got so badly out of hand."

"He was in a relationship for seven or eight years, living initially at separate addresses before she moved in with him. They split up in November 2013, she moved out and he took that very badly."

"He became increasingly frustrated. He didn't like the company she started keeping and after he'd been drinking he went to her address."

Passing sentence, judge Patricia Lynch told Spicer: "It seems to me we're talking about a course of conduct of bullying of the worst kind, emotional bullying, nothing less than appalling and unforgivable."

"You've let yourself down and everyone else. It was pure arson but at least it wasn't the house and wasn't with intent to endanger life. There's enough to suspend the sentence."

She also imposed a restraining order preventing Spicer from going within one mile of his ex-partner's address and banning him from contacting her.

Firefighters set for eight more days of strikes

FIREFIGHTERS in Harlow will join union colleagues across the country taking strike action this weekend as part of an ongoing dispute with the Government over retirement age and pensions.

Crews will walk out on Saturday at the start of eight consecutive days of action. Strikes will take place each day from noon-2pm and then from 10.59pm-11.59pm.

Fire Brigades Union general secretary Matt Wrack said: "It is absolutely ludicrous that a government can impose a scheme which means firefighters will have to ride engines and rescue people from fires up to age 60. This is unsafe and unrealistic."

"We know it and the public know it, but the Government will not listen to the evidence-based case we have made to them."

Sean Starbuck, FBU national officer, added: "It's extremely disappointing that we have had to issue more strike dates but the Government is simply not listening to our concerns."

"We have a new fire minister but to date she doesn't appear to have listened to our case."

Driver airlifted to hospital as crash closes motorway

TRAFFIC on the M11 between Harlow and Bishop's Stortford was brought to a standstill on Sunday morning by an accident involving two cars on the northbound carriageway.

One of the drivers, a 26-year-old woman from Margate in Kent, was taken to the Royal London Hospital by air ambulance after her vehicle crashed into a tree.

Her condition was described as serious but stable.

The carriageway was closed for almost four three hours, causing lengthy tailbacks. The accident involved a Citroen C5 estate and a Mitsubishi Shogun

Police closed the motorway at junction 7 (Harlow) – resulting in tailbacks to junction 6 (M25) – in order to allow the air ambulance to land and for crash investigators to gather evidence.

An Essex Police spokeswoman said: "Officers are grateful to motorists who patiently endured the delays whilst this vital work was carried out."

With delays dragging on, some motorists reported seeing people en route to Stansted Airport walking along the hard shoulder with their baggage in an attempt to make their flights.

The previous day the same stretch of motorway was closed for just over an hour while police dealt with the aftermath of a three-vehicle accident. One person suffered minor injuries.

Cancer survivor Kay gears up for 100-mile cycle challenge

PEDAL POWER: Kay Harvey will be cycling 100 miles on Sunday to raise money for the breast cancer trials unit at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital

A CANCER survivor is preparing to saddle up to raise thousands of pounds for Princess Alexandra Hospital's breast cancer trial unit by completing a 100-mile bike ride.

Kay Harvey, 45, of Church Field, Harlow was diagnosed with breast cancer in April 2012. She is now planning to turn pedal power into pounds in support of the unit where she was treated.

"It was scary being diagnosed, petrifying actually," said Kay, who runs her own hair and beauty salon "It was horrible; I underwent six months of chemotherapy and six weeks of radiotherapy.

"Now I have decided to do this for the clinical trials unit. Drugs like the one I had during treatment would not be available without the trials, which is why I want to raise money."

Kay, who opened her salon while she was undergoing chemotherapy, will be joining a group of about 30 other cyclists for the 100-mile Prudential ride from London to Surrey on Sunday.

She has already raised £1,500 for

BIANCA CASTRO

PAH's clinical trial unit, including £2,000 by holding a pink party. "The more I raise the better," she added.

"I have had massive support ever since I was diagnosed.

"The support from friends, family and customers has been phenomenal. It has all been quite overwhelming really and it's been amazing how everyone has been so supportive."

Kay is also planning to complete a trek through the Grand Canyon in Arizona in aid of the unit and has planned a host of other fundraising activities – including a party night and Christmas ball – to raise even more money.

She said: "Dr Ashraf Patel [specialist in breast diseases at PAH] is amazing and he has an incredible fundraising team, I just want to do everything I can to help them and raise money for an important cause."

Optician focuses on raising charity cash

AN optometrist from the Harlow town centre branch of Specsavers took to the streets of London to raise money for Help for Heroes.

Vanita Patel, 31, who works in the national chain's East Gate shop, took part in the British 10k London Run.

Vanita finished the race in a time of 58 minutes and 28 seconds and raised £450.

She said: "Surprisingly enough I really enjoyed the day."

"My colleagues and customers have been so supportive and they've helped me raise a great sum of money for an equally great cause."

"It wasn't an easy run but it was certainly worth it."

Store director, Carley Barrett, added: "We're all really proud of Vanita and what she's achieved."

"With it being the centenary of the First World War this year it is really important that we do not forget the sacrifices made by so many all those years ago."

"Vanita has done her part to not only remind us all of that but also to help our heroes who most need it."

Cash rolls in from heart charity shops

SHOPPERS visiting British Heart Foundation stores in Essex raised more than £1.8m in the past year.

This money has been used by the charity to fund 147 defibrillators, three healthcare professionals and life-saving diagnostic equipment such as ultrasounds and ECG recorders.

The BHF has also awarded two research grants worth almost £200,000 to the University of Essex and currently funds 37 Heartstart schemes in Essex, teaching emergency life support and CPR training in local schools and businesses.

The charity has two stores in Harlow and one in Epping.

BHF area manager Louise Harbour said: "We're truly overwhelmed with the ongoing generosity of the local community in Essex. We couldn't fund this life-saving equipment or research in Essex without the support of the local community and we hope they will continue to support BHF shops for many years to come."

More than 2,000 people die from coronary heart disease in Essex every year.

Drop-in clinic will help smokers quit

A SATURDAY morning drop-in clinic to help smokers quit has opened in Harlow.

The clinic in the outpatients department at Wych Elm has been introduced by the Anglian Community Enterprise, which was recently awarded the contract to run the local smoking cessation service.

Service co-ordinator Sue White said: "We have a number of appointment-only clinics around the area, including at Wych Elm on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday and the Barbara Castle Health Centre on Wednesday and Thursday."

"However, we believe the opportunity to just drop-in on a Saturday morning between 10am and noon will be welcomed by people. They'll be able to talk to an experienced smoking cessation advisor who will be able to offer support and on-going advice to help them quit smoking."

She added: "Our track record over the years has constantly placed us among the top-performing services in the country so we are relishing the challenge to help even more people."

For more information call 0800 022 4524.

Community grants

GRANTS are available for community projects from Harlow Recreation Trust, which is managed by Essex Community Foundation.

It awards sums of up to £10,000 to support charitable projects undertaken by voluntary and community organisations that support the development of people living in Harlow.

For more information call the grants team on (01245) 356018.

Hospice lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice weekly lottery drawn on August 1 was ticketholder 794528, who lives in Harlow.

The second prize was not won and will rollover to the next draw when the prize will be £2,800.

Award nomination for support group volunteer Mandy

A VOLUNTEER who helps to run a support group for people in Harlow suffering from sight loss has been nominated for a national award.

Mandy Smith, 54, has been diagnosed with macular edema and diabetic retinopathy. She is in the running to win the chairman's award for volunteering as part of the Macular Society's Awards for Excellence.

The nomination recognises her work and dedication in her role leading the Harlow Macular Support Group.

"I am pleasantly surprised and I thank whoever was so kind as to nominate me," said Mandy, of Broad Eaves, Roydon. "My involvement in the group is a pleasure and members are very supportive of each other which is reward in itself."

"When you receive the news you have macular disease and Charles Bonnet Syndrome it is scary and a bit daunting. At meetings it is a pleasure to see group members supporting each other through the treatment and even looking forward to meeting at the eye clinic the next morning."

Group member Ann Watson, who nominated Mandy for the award, said: "She has been untiring in her efforts to make sure all of the group members have access to all of the information they need about their condition."

"She is great at dealing with queries and has found some very interesting people to give talks at our meetings. Even though she herself suffers with major sight problems she remains full of beans and this positively reflects on everyone."

"The meetings have given a new lease of life to many sufferers of sight loss."

Tony Rucinski, chief executive of the Macular Society, said: "Mandy has done exceptionally well to be nominated for this award and we're very grateful to her for the fantastic work carried out in Harlow."

"It's always heartening to hear how people have made such a difference to the lives of others. There are some really inspiring people working within the sector and volunteering within the local community for people with visual impairments."

The chairman's award for volunteering is one of four honours presented by the charity. A panel of judges will now decide on the overall winners.

Thief who breached suspended sentence is jailed after being caught in stolen van

A THIEF who was given a suspended prison sentence for stealing from a church in Harlow was seen by police in a stolen vehicle four months later.

Jake Seaton, 20, of Barn Mead, Harlow, was told by a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court he had "cynically committed another offence while subject to a suspended sentence".

Seaton was jailed for four weeks after pleading guilty to allowing himself to be carried in a vehicle which had been taken without consent on February 9. Judge David Turner also activated the previous six-month suspended sentence for the church offence.

Samantha Lowther, prosecuting, said Seaton was with another youth when he was caught by police in Bishop's Stortford while running away from the van which had false number plates.

The court heard that in October last year Seaton was given a suspended sentence for stealing three flat screen televisions, five heaters and a bracket from the Church of God at Ward Hatch.

Jailing Seaton on Friday, the judge told him: "Actions have consequences so when a crown court imposes a suspended sentence, a breach means a custodial sentence."

"You were given the opportunity after a period of deferment with a six months suspended sentence in October last year. Regrettably, however, three and a half months later you decided to re-offend."

"You cynically committed another offence while subject to a suspended sentence."

Labour's £100m promise to slash GP waiting times

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ALMOST one in five patients in the Star area waited seven days or longer for a doctor's appointment the last time they tried, according to a survey by the Labour Party.

The results show that 18 per cent of patients – 51,962 people – faced a wait of a week or more when they asked to see a GP at surgeries in Harlow, Epping Forest and Uttlesford, the area covered by the West Essex Clinical Commissioning Group, during the past year.

Suzy Stride, Labour's parliamentary hopeful for Harlow, said: "David Cameron has made it harder for people in Harlow to get a GP appointment, proof he can't be trusted with our local NHS."

"Within days of the last election he scrapped Labour's appointments guarantee and now thousands of people here are waiting over a week. "Labour will scrap Cameron's NHS market and invest the savings in helping people get a GP appointment within 48 hours or on the same day for those who need it."

Ms Stride said Labour had pledged to invest £100m in GP surgeries to guarantee appointments within 48 hours or on the same day for those who need it.

The annual NHS England survey,

BEST OF HEALTH
Suzy Stride and local Labour supporters champion the party's pledge over GP appointments released earlier this month, also revealed that local patients struggle to see the family doctor of their choosing.

Some 45 per cent of patients who have a preferred GP had to see another doctor when they last went to their surgery.

The delays have left more than 10 cent of locals saying they would not recommend their family's practice to new patients, according to the survey.

Shadow health secretary Andy Burnham said: "This survey confirms what Labour has been saying."

"People want to be able to see the GP they trust, and who knows their family history, but are left phoning the surgery day after day only to be disappointed."

"Patients are waiting days or even weeks for appointments and that is forcing people to A&E in record numbers."

"People know from their own experience that the NHS is heading downhill under this Government."

According to NHS England's GP Patient Survey, which was published in December, the proportion of patients in England who were having to wait a week or more for an appointment had risen to 15 per cent, compared with 14 per cent a year before.

But the survey, which was based on information supplied by nearly one million respondents, also showed 92.2 per cent of people found making a GP appointment convenient.

ONE hour before midnight on August 4, 1914 Britain declared it was at war with Germany.

One of the deadliest conflicts in history, the First World War mobilised more than 70 million military personnel from around the world. In Britain, thousands raced to enlist when war was declared.

This week communities across the Europe came together to remember those who gave their lives in the service of their country a century ago.

Special events took place across the region and, on Monday, lights were extinguished and candles flickered for an hour as part of the national Lights Out initiative.

Back in 1914 hundreds of young men from Harlow and surrounding villages went off to fight. The names of 126 who did not to return are honoured on memorials and plaques around the town.

For the most part these men were aged under 30 - 27 were under the age of 21 and three were just 17.

In fact more than 250,000 underage British soldiers fought in the First World War. Recruits had to be 18 to sign up and 19 to serve overseas, but as most people did not have birth certificate, it was easy for underage boys to lie about their age.

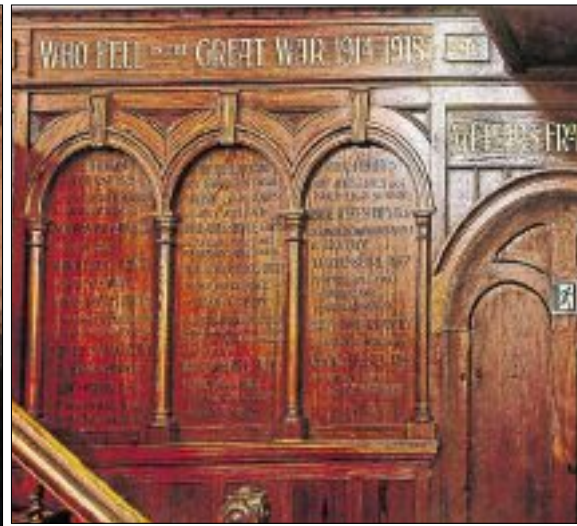

In Harlow, 10 families each lost two sons while one family lost three of their four sons.

A community project team made up of residents in Harlow has produced a register to ensure the names of those who gave their lives are remembered.

Within 10 weeks of the outbreak of war the family of Reginald John Bradley, who had lived in Churchgate Street with his parents, received the news the 21-year-old had been killed when, on October 15, HMS Hawke, had been sunk. He was the first Harlow casualty of the war.

Over the following years a further 125 men from the Harlow area would leave their homes to fight in the war but never to return. The last of these men was Walter Woollard, who died of his wounds on February 20 1920.

Among those 125 was Thomas Lewis, who was born in Great Parndon in 1894.

Thomas, a farm worker, was living in Hare Street Green, Great Parndon, with his eight siblings when he signed up. As Private Thomas Lewis, he joined The 1st Battalion of The Bedfordshire Regiment.

Thomas died of his wounds on September 13, 1916. His regiment was involved in the Battle of the Somme, specifically in the attack on High Wood on August 20, 1916 and the capture of Falfelmont Farm between September 3 and 6, 1916.

Community remembers those who made ultimate sacrifice

HUNDREDS paid tribute to those who lost their lives in the First World War at a centenary service in Harlow.

Residents and dignitaries attended ceremony to rededicate the Potter Street War Memorial.

The proceedings were led by Rev Martin Harris and music was provided by Harlow Brass Band.

Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner said: "For people of my generation it's easy to look back at the events of World War One as lines in a history book but it's reading through the 126 names in this register of dedication - 126 names of ordinary people with strong links to Harlow and surrounding areas.

"Ordinary people doing extraordinary things in extraordinary times. This is about the sacrifice of individuals, of fathers, brothers, sisters and sons."

"It's about the sacrifices of those left behind, their families, some losing two or three sons, the legacy of struggle and heartbreak. It's also about the sacrifices of communities."

"It's through the sacrifices of individuals, their families and their communities that we enjoy the freedoms, democracy and diversity that we do."

Harlow Council deputy chairman Tony Hall said: "Most of have during our lives spoken to someone who was there; sat on bus with them, sat in a pub with them or stood in queue with them without ever realising that they were there amidst all the horror of the war to end all wars."

"So the memory now rests with those of us old enough to remember someone who was there, perhaps a relative, a neighbour, a friend."

"Such memories fade with time, important details get missed or changed. That is why it is important to identify those who keep those memories and recall them so that they can share these memories with new generations."

During the service Harlow MP Robert Halfon read a passage from Psalm 23.

By the time the battle ended in November, the British had suffered 420,000 casualties, the French 195,000 and the Germans around 650,000.

Thomas, who was buried in St Sever Cemetery at Rouen in France, is remembered on the war memorial in Great Parndon.

Details of 126 victims from the Harlow area are contained in the publication by a community project team made up of Harlow residents.

John Bawden and Malcolm Tinn, who were determined to recognise the sacrifice of the young servicemen, travelled across Europe to catalogue the final resting place of them all.

Mr Bawden, who has studied the First World War and knows the precise location of each memorial and grave within Harlow and throughout Europe, started researching the conflict after the death of his wife in 2001.

"I started researching the people that were involved from Harlow, he said. "I wanted to find out about their lives.

"My grandfather was at the Somme and my father was at Dunkirk but they never spoke about it. I wanted to find out about people's experiences."

Mr Bawden has spent countless hours searching across Europe for the graves of those who lost their lives. He urges everyone to visit the war cemeteries in Belgium.

"I would say just go once for the experience," he said. "It's very moving and very sad but it's worthwhile."

Mr Bawden will continue to catalogue the war graves of soldiers from Harlow and the surrounding villages.

He said: "I'm still researching; I want to go back to Belgium and find out more about those from Harlow and the surrounding area."

Some men listed in the s register have relatives still living locally. One of those is Walter Wheeler, who was born in Harlow in the summer of 1896.

In 1901 he was living in Potter Street with his father Henry, mother Elizabeth and siblings William, Nellie, Alfred and Elizabeth.

In 1911, at the age of 15, he was working as an errand boy while his father was working as a hay binder. Walter enlisted in Epping and served with The 9th Battalion of The Essex Regiment.

He was 30 years old when he killed in action on July 3, 1916 on the third day of the Battle of the Somme.

On Monday - 100 years to the day that Britain entered the war - Harlow Council held a rededication service at the Potter Street War Memorial.

The memorial dedicated to the men of Potter Street, Latton and surrounding district who lost their lives in the Great War, was unveiled in May 1920. A story about the ceremony was published in the May 22 edition of the Star's sister paper, the Herts & Essex Observer.

Last month stonemasons J Day & Son renovated the Portland stone memorial including replacing the original cross which was damaged in a storm many years ago and was in danger of falling down.

Harlow Council and J Day & Son also worked together to renovate three of the town's war memorials at Potter Street, Kingsmoor and Churchgate Street.

The council also put in a path leading up to and surrounding the Potter Street memorial to improve access for the public.

The work to restore the war memorials was funded by the council with the help of a £5,000 grant from the War Memorials Trust.

MEMBERS of the Harlow League of Gentlemen 95 paid tribute to the fallen at a ceremony on Sunday. Led by veteran Albert Hobdell, the group has been instrumental in keeping alive the memories of those who fought for freedom.

"We are here to pay our respects to these young people who enlisted to defend their homeland with never a thought of dying but to defend their homeland," said Mr Hobdell. "God bless them all."

Shoppers gripped by the Aldi factor

MORE than 300 expectant shoppers formed a long queue which snaked around the outside of the new Aldi store in Harlow ahead of the official opening on Thursday.

The first 100 were presented with golden tickets containing prize tickets.

The winner of the top prize - a Dyson multi-floor vacuum cleaner - was Jennifer Tyrell who started queuing at 9.30pm the previous evening. She was presented with her prize by store manager Anthony Matthews.

The official opening of the store at 8am took the form of a ribbon-cutting ceremony by Harlow Council vice-chairman Tony Hall and representatives of the Burnt Mill Children's Centre. The Harlow store is working with the centre and the Salvation Army to donate products from the store.

During the morning the store also provided a range of hot and cold food samples for customers.

Mr Matthews said: "My team and I have very much enjoyed welcoming our new customers to the store. The turnout on the day was fantastic, with 100 people walking away with a prize."

"We hope shoppers enjoyed our celebrations and I would like to thank everyone for their support."

The new store, which has created 35 jobs, is open from Monday-Saturday from 8am to 10pm and on Sundays from 10am to 4pm.

Ambulance chief given a £50k rise

star@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE chief executive of the region's ambulance service will be taking home an extra £50,000 a year after receiving a pay rise.

The annual salary of Dr Anthony Marsh, who replaced Andrew Morgan as chief executive of the East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust at the beginning of this year, is now £232,226.

The trust said Dr Marsh's pay reflected his dual role as chief executive for the West Midlands Ambulance Service.

In a statement, EEASt wrote: "Dr Marsh is currently running two ambulance trusts but he does not receive the salary of two chief executives. The joint role saves the taxpayer approximately £130,000 on the cost of a having a substantive chief executive in each ambulance trust."

"By comparison, within the same two areas there are 11 chief fire officers and 10 chief constables, demonstrating the value for money the taxpayer is getting."

The statement continued: "EEASt was a failing trust. Since his appointment as interim chief executive, Dr Marsh has stripped out approximately £6m of back office functions and management savings."

"This is helping to fund the recruitment of 400 new staff, with more than 120 already having joined the trust. In addition, he has brought in 147 brand new ambulances and over 60 rapid response vehicles. The organisation has turned a corner thanks to the actions Dr Marsh has put in place."

On its website, WMAS wrote: "Dr Marsh is now responsible for the running of both organisations, doing the job of two chief executives. He is not, however, earning the salaries of two chief executives."

"Dr Marsh works at least 70 hours a week to ensure both areas receive his full attention. WMAS is meeting its performance targets this year in very difficult circumstances and despite massive increases in demand."

Dr Marsh, who works with EEASt for four days a week, has had a 26-year career in ambulance services.

The West Midlands and East of England ambulance services have a combined workforce of almost 9,000 staff. They answer approximately 6,000 emergency 999 calls a day.

SCHOOL NEWS

Party time as pupils take charge of fun day

FRESHWATERS ACADEMY

Parents, pupils and local residents were welcomed to the School Lane academy's first Party in the Park.

Head of school Marios Solomonides fired up the barbecue at the event which replaced the traditional summer fete.

Mr Solomonides said: "The children literally did it all themselves. It was their project and they took total control."

"Even when the party had finished a group of Year 6 pupils took it upon themselves to stay behind and tidy everything away, which wasn't an easy task. That proved to me they felt it was their event."

"Some of the Year 6 also set up a stall to sell loom bands, bookmarks, icepops and sweets to raise money for their summer ball."

He added: "This was about breaking down barriers and welcoming our community into the school. I am so pleased with how it went."

Academy runs summer school for newbies

BURNT MILL ACADEMY The latest intake of pupils preparing for their first term at the First Avenue academy have been checking out their surroundings and getting to know their new teachers and classmates at a summer school.

The youngsters tried their hand at dance, circus skills, rocket-making, drama, animation, sport and songwriting during the week.

A second group will get the opportunity to do the same later this month.

Shawki Bakkar, director of learning for Year 7, said:

"Summer school is a great opportunity for our new students to get to know each other while getting active and being healthy."

"When they first arrive on day one you can see they are nervous but after taking part in the fun activities they are soon relaxed and happy and eager to start at Burnt Mill full-time."

The school welcomes in outside experts to run the sessions, along with students taking part in the Teachers for Tomorrow training course at Burnt Mill.

Dan Godfrey, of Ware Football Club, works with Burnt Mill as a PE practitioner and ran two days of sessions during the summer school.

He said: "The children need to make the step up to the secondary way of life really quickly so this couple of days helps us to work with them on key skills and to assess their special awareness, agility and co-ordination."

Children get hands on with clock competition

STEWARDS ACADEMY Staff from the Parnall Road school in Harlow ran a competition for pupils at Jerounds Primary School as part of a design and technology week.

The children were asked to design a clock and the winning entries were made into working models.

A Stewards spokeswoman said: "Design and technology encourages pupils to design and make functional products for particular purposes and users."

"This is the second year that we have run this competition with Jerounds and I have been blown away by the level of creativity of these pupils at such a young age."

The koala that survived a terrifying car journey

ONE of cutest animals on the planet has to be the koala, the cuddly creature that looks like a teddy bear and lives in Australia.

But one little koala is lucky to be alive after he was found clinging to the underneath of a car which had travelled on a busy motorway for 55 miles.

It is believed the four-year-old marsupial, who has been given the name Timberwolf, was hit by the vehicle but it wasn't until the driver stopped at a service station that the animal was found.

The koala was taken to an animal hospital where, remarkably, vets found the only injury he had suffered was a broken nail.

Claude Lacasse, a vet at Australia Zoo said: "He is a very lucky koala. It is absolutely amazing that he has such minor injuries and he survived." Timberwolf is currently recovering from his ordeal at the zoo's wildlife hospital while vets try to work out where his adventure began.

The plan is to return him to the wild. Koalas are now listed as vulnerable in Australia, where it's thought only 43,000 remain in the wild.

Voucher offers cheap parking for visitors to country parks

VISITORS to country parks in Essex can now pick up a car parking voucher offering a six-month season ticket for half price.

The vouchers are available from park shops and from rangers organising pop-up events across the county during the summer holidays.

They entitle the holder to unlimited parking at any Essex country park for £20 (£15 for blue badge holders or over 60s) for a six-month period from the date of issue.

Cllr John Jowers, Essex County Council's cabinet member for libraries, communities and planning, said: "Our country parks provide a wonderful setting for families and children to let their imagination run free.

"These open spaces are a fantastic place to have an adventure, get active and, most of all, have fun.

"There are few better ways to spend the summer holidays than exploring our fantastic country parks and by making it more affordable to visit them I believe more families will be able to make the most of what we have to offer."

Pharmacists 'lined their pockets' in £300k VAT fraud

TWO pharmacists who pocketed hundreds of thousands of pounds in VAT repayments by lying about exporting life-saving cancer and HIV medicines to Nigeria have been jailed.

HM Revenue and Customs investigators discovered that Benedict Babundo and Louis Ovonlen, of Addison Healthcare (UK) Ltd in Harlow, had a contract with the NHS to operate a prescription service to the public.

But they created false invoices for the drugs they claimed to export to support fraudulent VAT repayments.

Ipswich Crown Court was told the amount of money involved in the fraud totalled £300,000. Ovonlen, 43, of Purford Green, Harlow, and Babundo, 50, of Plumstead Common, London, were found guilty of cheating the public revenue contrary to common law.

Ovonlen, who was the director and senior pharmacist of Addison Healthcare (UK) Limited, was sentenced to 30

Louis Ovonlen

months in prison and disqualified from being a company director for four years.

Babundo was sentenced to four years in prison and disqualified from being a company director for seven years.

Passing sentence, recorder Ian Glen told the pair: "You embarked on submitting false claims and only stopped when HMRC reviewed the business in 2011."

He told Babundo: "The fraud was driven by you, without any doubt. You have a long list of company failures and for tactical reasons you kept your distance, employing others to do your work."

Speaking after the case, HMRC's assistant director of criminal investigation Paul Barton said: "This was a blatant attack on the tax system; their only aim was to line their pockets at the expense of the taxpayer."

"They thought they could get away with providing false records to claim VAT refunds but they are now counting the real cost of their criminality."

There's still time left to share your views on budget priorities

WE have received an excellent response to the council's consultation on budget priorities which we launched at the beginning of July, with over 900 responses so far.

The consultation runs until the end of this month so please let us know your views.

There are two parts to the consultation – surveys sent directly to more than 2,000 randomly selected households and an online survey – which can be accessed at www.harlow.gov.uk/budget – open to anyone else who wants their say.

Paper copies of the survey can also be picked up from the Civic Centre.

Given this level of response so far, I am confident that we will have a reliable picture of residents' priorities.

This information will help the council make the decisions it has to because of Government cuts to the council's funding.

COUNCIL MATTERS

By Councillor Jon Clempner
Leader, Harlow Council

We need to save £5.3m over the next four years.

This whole process is about being open and transparent with the community about the challenges the council faces and giving everyone the opportunity to have a say about the future of their services.

The consultation is being run in-house which means that costs are being kept to a minimum.

The consultation results will be published in September.

It is important to note that the budget proposals for 2015/16 will not be agreed until February 2015. Therefore, when the results are published it does not mean that final decisions on the future of any service have already been made.

This is about the council finding out what the community thinks it should directly provide or fund.

The administration will then look at its priorities and whether services can be provided in different ways or funded differently, not necessarily all with direct funding from Harlow Council.

Visit Harlow Garden Centre for all your gardening needs

HARLOW Garden Centre is a family-run independent centre which opened on its current site in Hastingwood in 1976, although the family has been involved in horticulture and market gardening since the 1930s.

It has developed over the years into a quality garden centre offering a very wide range of plants. It sells more than 1,000 varieties of trees and shrubs and more than 1,000 varieties of herbaceous and alpine plants, along with all the sundries and products that you would expect to see at a leading garden centre.

Slade will be playing alongside five other musicians who he describes as "amazingly talented, world class musicians and as good as any I have ever played with in my career".

The group are made up of Steve Glasscock on non AC/DC vocals, Paul Davis on AC/DC vocals, James Cornford on lead guitar, Michael J Clark on rhythm guitar/keyboards and Andy Crosby on bass.

The band is a personal project of Slade and headlined the legendary Rock n Blues Festival in Derby last year.

Their set will feature material from Slade's illustrious career as a drummer which included spells with AC/DC, Uriah Heep, The Firm, Asia, Dave Gilmour and the late Gary Moore.

Slade has also worked with many famous faces since joining up with Tom Jones in the early sixties at the age of 16.

After five decades in the business his career shows no signs of winding down and he continues as busy as ever. He recently completed a tour in Russia with Tony Martin and Geoff Nicholls of Black Sabbath, Bobby Rondinelli of Rainbow, Craig Goldy of Dio, Greg Smith of Alice Cooper.

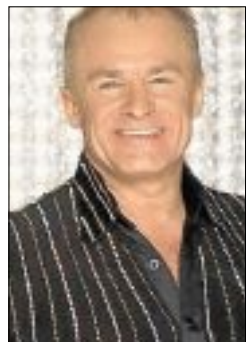

Slade also continues to spend much of his time on extensive personal appearances all over Europe, Russia and South America.

He received his highest exposure in 1989 when he was asked to join AC/DC as replacement for Simon Wright. He played on the 1990 Razor's Edge album which included Thunderstruck, receiving a grammy award nomination for his work.

He toured with the band for three years before leaving when former drummer Phil Rudd returned to the fold, but AC/DC guitarist Angus Young has since been quoted as saying: "Chris Slade was the best musician in AC/DC."

The Chris Slade Timeline have studio recorded an EP, which will be on sale at the gig.

>> Chris Slade will perform at The Square next Friday (August 15). Tickets cost £10 on the door or £8 in advance and are available at www.thesquareharlow.com.

Bobby's keen to impress with some comedy gold

BOBBY Davro, of the most popular and best-known entertainers in the UK, will be performing at Bishop's Stortford comedy club the Ha-Half Moon on Sunday.

Davro had been working on the London stag circuit before making his TV breakthrough in 1983 at Live From Her Majesty's, followed by appearances on impressionist show Who Do You Do?

However, a recent lack of television exposure means that Bobby has to work hard to make people realise his act is still relevant today.

"People tend to criticise before they even know what you do," he said. "Because I was around in the 1980s people tend to think I'm old hat but I'm not. I do Michael McIntyre, Alan Carr, all the modern impressions. Because I've had so many years doing this I can adapt my act and I know what I'm best at."

"Most comedy these days is observational; I do a bit of that but it's more gag based. I've got ruder because I figured if you can't beat them, join them, but nothing too outrageous. Maybe the odd expletive here and there."

Talking about his show at the Half Moon, Bobby said: "People can expect a lot of stand-up, impressions and a bit of singing. I hope people enjoy it, I think they will see a different side to what I do."

Support on the night comes from upcoming comedian Sean Bennett and the host for the evening is John Mann.

>> Doors open at 7.30pm and advanced tickets are available from www.wegotickets.com/event/283282 or from the Half Moon in North Street.

The magic of summer

THERE'S no shortage of inspiration when it comes to UK gardens, so if you're staying at home this summer, take a notepad, pen and camera to some of the best in the country.

Garden curators Jon Webster, from RHS Garden Rosemoor in Devon, and Paul Cook, from RHS Garden Harlow Carr in Yorkshire, offer their own preferences.

• Arley Hall & Gardens, Arley, Northwich, Cheshire (www.arleyhallandgardens.com/01565 777 353)

The double herbaceous border, spanning around 100m from one end to the other, is a sight to behold in this private 10-acre garden in high summer. "It's been in the same family for years and each generation has made a contribution to the garden," says Cook. Crocosmias, heleniums and other sizzling border plants create a stunning display in summer and beyond.

• RHS Garden Wisley, Woking, Surrey (www.rhs.org.uk/0845 260 9000)

Webster explains: "This is one of my favourites. I spent nearly 10 years working there. In summer, head for the mixed borders, which offer a very impressive vista of hornbeam hedge-backed herbaceous beds with everything from pollarded trees to dahlias, geraniums and geums at the

• Wollerton Old Hall Garden, Wollerton, Market Drayton, Shropshire (wollertonoldhallgarden.com/01630 685 760)

A mix of formal structure and soft planting schemes makes Wollerton an extremely special, high-quality garden. Set around a 16th century Tudor house, it covers four acres and has developed into an important modern garden in the English garden tradition with echoes of arts and crafts. The garden has significant collections of rare perennials, salvias, paniculata phlox and clematis. Admire the perfectly clipped topiary and the plantings which soften the structure.

• RHS Garden Harlow Carr, Harrogate, North Yorkshire (www.rhs.org.uk/01423 565 418)

This wonderful garden looks at horticulture through the ages, with compartmentalised gardens starting with the Edwardian era through to a contemporary Diarmuid Gavin garden at the end, with a bright purple wall and modern container planting schemes, including everlasting flowers and a twisted stage.

• Ness Botanic Gardens, University of Liverpool, Ness (www.nessgardens.org.uk/0845 030 4063)

"It's in a really dry area, on a sandstone outcrop and the gardens slope away from it on a south-facing slope," Cook explains. "The sandstone terraces are full of amazing tender plants that you would be more likely to see in a Cornish garden than in the north west. Unusual plants include climbing senecio and blue plumbago, which are more suited to the Mediterranean, along with beautiful agapanthus and kniphofias."

• Burton Agnes Hall, Driffield, East Yorkshire (www.burtonagnes.com/01262 490 324)

Stunning gardens fringe this Norman manor house including the walled garden, which contains more than 4,000 different plant species, herbaceous borders, a jungle garden and national collection of campanulas, and a woodland walk. Check out the life-sized chess board in this family-friendly spot.

• RHS Garden Rosemoor, Great

Torrington, Devon (www.rhs.org.uk/0845 265 8072)

In August, visitors should not miss the hot garden, Rosemoor's take on prairie-style planting, which is full of red, oranges and yellow flowers. Look out for Helenium 'Sahin's Early Flowerer' whose daisy yellow flowers are streaked with orange, mingling with dazzling monardas. The heat is turned up when the reds, oranges, blues and purples of salvia, lobelia, hemerocallis, kniphofia, coreopsis, crocosmia, rudbeckia and achillea join in later.

Fate propels Dusty into the role of a firefighter

PLANES: FIRE & RESCUE certificate U 1h23m

If the first film appeared to be driven by merchandising opportunities rather than creative necessity, this action-packed sequel attempts to stand on its own landing gear with a stirring tale of heroism and self-sacrifice.

As the title suggests, Planes: Fire & Rescue immerses us in the daredevil world of fighting fires, honouring the men and women - and aircraft - who fly in when others are flying out. Soaring over Propwash Junction with his mentor Skipper (voiced by Stacy Keach), Dusty Crophopper (Dane Cook) suffers a malfunction. Back at the hanger, trusted mechanic Dottie (Teri Hatcher) diagnoses a failing gearbox.

"From now on you have to keep down your torque to less than 80 per cent," she instructs Dusty, putting an end to his illustrious racing career. But Dusty angrily defies Dottie and ends up crashing into the town's airport, causing a small fire.

The incident casts doubt on the ability of veteran fire and rescue truck Mayday (Hal Holbrook) to service the airport's needs, so Dusty agrees to abandon his racing dreams in order to earn his certificate as the town's firefighting plane.

The plucky cropduster heads to Piston Peak National Park to train under helicopter Blade Ranger (Ed Harris) and his team including scooper Lil' Dipper (Julie Bowen), helicopter Windlifter (Wes Studi) and ex-military transport plane Cabbie (Dale Dye).

As Dusty masters the art of airborne fire-fighting, he also learns valuable lessons about friendship and endurance.

Planes 2: Fire & Rescue is geared towards younger viewers, hammering home the importance of teamwork and the valuable contribution of emergency services.

There are a handful of verbal and visual gags to engage older audiences but on the whole this sequel lacks the sophistication and emotional richness of yesteryear's Frozen or recent Pixar fare.

The animation is crisp and colourful and the vocal performances are similarly warm so audiences feel a toasty glow before the first plumes of smoke from the computer-generated blazes.

THE INBETWEENERS 2 certificate 15 1h36m

When it was released in 2011, The Inbetweeners Movie became one of the biggest hits of the year at the UK box office, setting a record for the opening weekend of a film comedy.

It's not surprising, therefore, that expectations are sky high for this second feature-length excursion based on the E4 sitcom which continues the sexual misadventures of socially inept schoolmates Will (Simon Bird), Jay (James Buckley), Neil (Blake Harrison) and Simon (Joe Thomas).

Jay is spending a gap year in Australia where he has enhanced his status as an incorrigible ladies' man. With the promise of more sex than they can handle, Will, Neil and Simon head down under to join their pal.

The four misfits set about attempting to impress the female of the species including Katie (Emily Berrington), Polly (Belinda Stewart-Wilson) and Lucy (Tamsa Kari). Needless to say their hamfisted chat-up lines and amorous overtures often lead to toe-curling humiliation.

THE EXPENABLES 3 certificate 12A 2h06m

Many years ago, Barney Ross (Sylvester Stallone) founded mercenary group the Expendables with good friend Conrad Stonebanks (Mel Gibson), who eventually turned his back on the team to become an arms dealer.

Barney was ordered to kill his friend for the greater good but Conrad survived the assassination. When he resurfaces, Barney realises he needs to bolster the ranks of his crew to overcome an adversary with unlimited supplies of state-of-the-art weaponry.

He travels the world and assembles a fearless team comprising bareknuckle brawler Smilee (Kellan Lutz), nightclub bouncer Luna (Ronda Rousey), hacker Thorn (Glen Powell), weaponry specialist Mars (Victor Ortiz) and infuriatingly talkative former Spanish Armed Forces operative Galgo (Antonio Banderas).

Tracey Waples Property Editor

NOT so long ago some friends got involved in making a sealed bid for a property they had set their hearts on.

They knew what the house had been valued at but they weren't the only ones interested in it and in the end it came down to the best offer. They won but from that day to this they have wondered if they could have spent less and still got the house of their dreams.

No matter what type of home you're trying to sell or where it is situated, the key is always its price. Most of us can cite examples of properties going on the market for what we may perceive as "well over the top" but if a property stagnates on the market for months on end it's bad news all round.

The agent and the seller miss out and even if a house ticks all the boxes in terms of location, size, and appeal, if the price is wrong a buyer is likely to discount it.

Of course, it comes to down to what someone is willing to pay but one needs to be realistic and this is where you need to make sure you have an agent you can trust onside.

"False impressions have been made by agents over-valuing properties and chasing business," says James Mackenzie of Strutt & Parker's country house team, "but it has all been at a cost. The result is no or low offers and disappointed clients.

"We should be braver and honest from the outset. There are plenty of really notable successes recently where clients have listened when we have given them open straightforward advice, ultimately achieving good sale exchanges.

"There are plenty of buyers out there if the price is right."

"The Advertising Myth"

It would not be unreasonable to assume that as a property comes on the market, the instructed estate agent will post the property details on various property portals and wait for the enquiries to roll in.

However, this approach is somewhat simplistic! We take a much more strategic and proactive approach to handling new buyer enquiries.

There is a fallacy surrounding adverts in that many people think that a property sells as a direct result of the publication of its corresponding advertisement. This is simply not true in most cases. In fact the overwhelming majority of buyers who enquire about a specific property do not go on to buy it, but buy something else instead. This is because only limited information can be conveyed in an advertisement, such as price, location, accommodation and condition. Yet the decision to buy is usually much more complex, and is something that cannot adequately be assimilated until the property is actually visited.

So whilst it is important to choose an agent that advertises extensively (eg, we feature our clients' properties on a number of portals including Rightmove.co.uk), it is more important to choose an agent who knows what to do with an enquiry than simply putting the buyer on a mailing list!

A good agent will use good ads to attract buyers, and then use their skill, training and judgement to help the buyer identify the right property - which in all probability will not turn out to be the one about which they enquired. This effective method is one of the reasons why we enjoy such an excellent ratio of new applicants to sales agreed, which is of course to our clients' substantial advantage.

Why not join them?

Please feel free to call me on 01279 401907 now to arrange a confidential Appraisal so that we might provide you with highly relevant strategic marketing. Proposal or why not pop into our offices and enjoy a chat over a cup of tea here at Gothic House here in Old Harlow.

This weekend, Gates will be officially unveiling two brand new additions to the Ford family.

The All-New Ford EcoSport offers all the practicality and affordability of a small car in a spacious and flexible SUV package.

The EcoSport is the first-ever SUV to be available with a 1.0-litre engine. The 1.0-litre EcoBoost was awarded International Engine of the Year in 2012, 2013 and 2014 and delivers up to 53.3mpg* combined and CO<sub>2</sub> emissions of 125 g/km. The EcoSport is also available with 112PS 1.5-litre petrol engine and a very fuel-efficient 90PS 1.5-litre TDCi diesel achieving up to 44.8mpg* and 61.4mpg* respectively.

Rugged, practical and agile, the EcoSport has a 10.6m turning circle (among the best in its segment), wading depth of 550 mm, 20 ingenious stowage spaces (including a cooled glove box that can store up to six 350ml drink cans) and boot space that exceeds many medium-sized family cars. It is also one of the first Ford vehicles in Europe to be equipped with Ford SYNC with AppLink for voice control of smartphone apps to include Spotify and TomTom.

The All-New Ford EcoSport extends Ford's new SUV range that already includes the ever-popular Kuga. The premium new Ford Edge will be joining them in the near future to complete the line-up. To find out more about the All-New Ford EcoSport, or to book a test drive, please contact your local Gates dealership where prices start from just £13,995.

The All-new Transit Courier delivers best-in-class fuel economy and load carrying ability.

Ford's first-ever small Transit van delivers unsurpassed fuel efficiency across diesel and petrol engines. Available with 75PS 1.5-litre Duratorq TDCi engine, 95PS 1.6-litre Duratorq TDCi and the multi-award-winning 1.0-litre EcoBoost petrol engine which offers up to 54.3 mpg* and 119 g/km CO<sub>2</sub> - 15 per cent better than the closest rival.

Despite its small appearance, the new Transit Courier offers loadspace of up to 2.4cu.m. That's 10% more load volume than other vehicles in its class with a longer load length, better access width via sliding side doors and full steel bulkhead. It also boasts a generous 660kg payload capacity accommodating a wide variety of cargo and equipment, including a standard Euro pallet. This compact and affordable van also offers class-leading safety features and innovative technologies such as Ford SYNC with Emergency Assistance are also available.

The New Transit Courier completes the top-to-bottom redesign and expansion of the Ford Transit range following the recent introduction of the all-new Transit, Transit Custom and Transit Connect models. To find out more about the All-New Ford Transit Courier, or to book a test drive, please contact your local Gates dealership where prices start from just £9,499+VAT.

Ford's 1.0-litre EcoBoost engine has recently been awarded "International Engine of the Year" for the third year running. To celebrate this remarkable achievement, by completing a test drive in a Ford vehicle powered by the 1.0 EcoBoost engine you will qualify for an extra £500 saving on any new Ford** until 24th August 2014. Whats more, this £500 saving is also available when you test drive the award-winning All-new Transit Connect, Transit Custom, or the all-new Transit Courier with any engine.

BEAUTIFUL
Enjoy an extra £500 off**

When you test drive any vehicle with the award-winning 1.0-litre EcoBoost engine by 24th August.

Results in MPG also correspond to this European drive cycle and are stated in imperial gallons. The results may differ from fuel economy figures in other regions of the world due to the different drive cycles and regulations used in those markets.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website.
Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Gymnasts sparkle to claim seven magnificent medals

HARLOW Rhythmic Gymnastics Club had good cause to celebrate as they won their largest medal haul at the annual Rose Cup competition in Northampton.

The 13-strong team got seven medals in individual and group events.

Millie Smith (13), Shannon Fallor (14) and Erin Gallagher (13) all performed flawless routines against a strong field.

After a close competition, Millie won the gold medal with her level two ribbon routine. Shannon achieved the silver medal in level three clubs.

In the level three ribbon competition Erin came fifth with team-mate Shannon finishing eighth.

In the U-12 ball section,

Emma Oakes (11) secured the bronze medal.

Amelia Anastasi (11), Lucy Taylor (11) and Gemma Aves (11) were placed sixth, seventh and eighth respectively in the same event.

Emma and Amelia added to their success with their duet, winning the gold medal in that section.

Narrowly missing bronze by only 0.3 points, Heba Copping-Ahmed (8) was fourth in the U-8 free section. Evie Matthews (9) came sixth in her first competition, in the level one hoop. Erika Lomo (8) and Yurika Lomo (8) finished in ninth and 10th positions respectively in the hoop event.

Together, Erika and Yurika were rewarded with the bronze medal in the rope duet.

There was a further bronze medal for Phillipa Museva (9) in the level two hoop event with Liberty Miller (8) finishing fourth.

Together, Phillipa and Liberty achieved the silver medal with their rope duet.

Head rhythmic coach at the Harlow club, Jenny Craigie, said: "All the gymnasts worked hard. I am so pleased with their results which represent their ongoing hard work and commitment."

"The gymnasts go from strength to strength, enabling them to compete with the rest of the country."

Successful summer for Harryman

HARLOW Athletic Club athlete Naomi Harryman has already enjoyed a remarkable summer.

She has won a number of Essex titles at age group level, earned selection for county and school squads and gained her first international vest for the England Schools' team.

With the English Schools' Championships and the team heptathlon at the end of August to look forward to, some athletes may well have chosen to be resting now.

Harryman, pictured, however, chose to put herself on the line at the Eastern Counties Senior Championships, held at The University Track, Cambridge last weekend.

She was entered for both the high and long jumps but, still feeling the effects of the international from the previous weekend, opted to withdraw from the high jump.

She didn't jump as far as she has done on previous occasions, but 5.57m was good enough to secure gold and her first senior title.

She is now in the top 30 nationally for all long jumpers and only three other U17 athletes appear on that list.

Speaking after the event Harlow Athletic Club coach Steve Lott said: "Many congratulations to Naomi, her coach and indeed her whole family."

"They are incredibly committed and have spent many hours on motorways and weekends in hotels and trackside in support of her."

"Naomi herself has foregone what many would consider to be a 'normal' teenage lifestyle."

"I am sure it will all be worth it as she has put herself in a position through her performances where further titles and international recognition must surely come. Who knows where it might all lead to?"

Silverware shows a bright future for club

THE future for Harlow Tae Kwon Do is extremely promising if their performance in the Inter-Club Championships is anything to go by.

This competition took place at Hemel Hempstead Sports Centre for clubs in the South East region.

They were competing for the sword that is awarded to the club with the highest amount of medals won.

Harlow missed out on the sword as they came second and were beaten by Dagenham and Romford.

Harlow Tae Kwon Do instructor Mick Sullivan said: "They will have to watch out for us next year as the battle is on."

Harlow had 18 students, their highest number ever, competing in sparring, patterns or both.

Patterns are a pre-determined set of moves against an imaginary enemy.

Harlow won 22 medals, which included 13 golds, five silvers and four bronzes.

The club had some of their more experienced students competing with Jacob Chappell, Parnell Chappell and Jag Mollines winning gold in the tag team sparring.

Mollines also won gold in his individual sparring while Brown gained silver in the tag team sparring together.

Brown, George Watkinson and Mollines wiped the floor with their patterns in the red belt division with the latter winning a gold medal.

Watkinson gained a silver medal and Brown earned a bronze medal.

In the men's team sparring,

ALL SMILES: The Harlow Tae Kwon Do team show off their medals, and, inset, Jack Jenkins (s)

Parries Alpheus, Stuart Locke and Daniel Brighton won gold medals.

Nick Marshall won bronze in his individual sparring and Nathan Williams won a gold in his team sparring.

The Harlow club also had students who did well despite not having entered competitions before.

Krissy Whiteman won gold in her tag team sparring and gold in her individual together with her son Jordan Whiteman getting silver in his patterns and individual sparring.

Dylan Beadle and Max Ellis both won bronze in their individual sparring.

Sullivan added: "A great effort was made by Leland Tyrrell, Joshua Brighton, Keira Williams and Caprice Williams who unfortunately missed out this time."

Sullivan also reserved praise for Stewards Academy pupil Jack Jenkins, who gained a black belt at a grading and won a dedication to sport trophy at Stewards Academy.

Jack has now been training with Harlow Tae Kwon Do for more than four years.

"Jack has worked consistently hard at the club and this has now been recognised by the school that he attends," said Sullivan.

"This is not only a great achievement for Jack but for Tae Kwon Do as well, to have a school recognise a martial art that requires commitment and dedication to reward their students in this way is fantastic."

Energetic Kinney just keeps running

HARLOW Running Club member Andy Kinney completed two half-marathons within days of each other.

He ran the inaugural Caterham Half Marathon at Redhill in Surrey, finishing 136th out of 158 finishers in two hours, 22 minutes and 27 seconds.

Three days later he ran the off-road Enigma Strikes Half Marathon at Caldecotte near Milton Keynes finishing 25th out of 30 finishers in 2:26.36.

At the Gunpowder Park run 5K, Paul Lee finished in 19th place out of 97 finishers in 23.14.

He was followed home by Faith Jackson-Lee in 43rd in 25.13, Robin Lozeau 54th in 26.52 and Andy Kinney 56th in 27.21.

At the Bournemouth Parkrun 5K, Richard Solomons finished in 19th place out of 205 finishers and was first veteran 60 in a superb 21.16.

At the National Newham London Anniversary 5 Mile Run, Debbie Barry finished in 733rd place out of 3,321 finishers in exactly 42 minutes.

She was followed by Paul Schroder, 770th in 42.20, and Derek Seymour, 1467th in 48.10.

Harlow can't keep up with Jones boy

THIRTEEN-year-old Alan Jones struck a brilliant 65 in Harlow twos' five-wicket defeat to Woodford Wells in the Shepherd Neame Essex League.

But his team-mates failed to keep up with his brilliant exploits as they posted 116 all out.

Woodford Wells replied with 120-5.

Meanwhile, a wonderful undefeated partnership from first team captain Rehman Ahmed (71 not out) and Imran Qadir (141 not out) secured a comprehensive nine-wicket victory against Woodford Wells.

Hosts Woodford made 270-5 in their 50 overs after being told to bat.

Wickets were shared by Luke Monger (2-31), Anthony Webb (1-54) and Luke Heskett (2-21).

In reply, Qadir struck a swash-buckling 114 in 141 balls including 92 in boundaries (11 fours and eight sixes).

Ahmed's 71 from 76 included 10 fours and a six.

Top of the table Harlow fourths played host to second-placed unbeaten Shenfield.

Winning the toss, Shenfield chose to bat.

Looking comfortable at 100-3, a run out by Sean Coldwell turned the game around, and then Jack Davies bowled the Shenfield skipper for a quick fire 30.

Sarwat Ali bowled unchanged for the innings and picked up 6-53 including three wickets in four balls to wrap Shenfield's innings up at 151.

In response, Harlow started positively, as Callum Sykes cracked eight boundaries in a fluent 34.

Jay Lowles supported him well from the other end.

Skipper Rob Coldwell said: "Everyone chipped in with a few runs but a little wobble saw us six down with still 54 needed."

The captain's unbeaten 34, in an excellent stand with Jack Davies (17 not out), steadied the ship and carried the hosts home by four wickets.

This gave Harlow 20 points and they are now 19 points clear of Shenfield with a game in hand.

Harlow threes remain top in division one despite losing at Upminster.

On losing the toss Harlow were asked to bowl first.

Upminster batted well and had put on 120 before they lost the first wicket.

However, once the initial breakthrough had been made, Upminster lost wickets regularly, with only Statton (45), Sagoo (62) and Ward (38) making double figures.

Upminster finished on 193 with Jack Sykes producing figures of 6-69.

In response Harlow were 32-1 after a reasonable start.

But a clutch of wickets fell, leaving Harlow on 68-6.

Harlow ended on 151 and lost by 42 runs. Baig (38) and Naeem (36) were the main run scorers.

Harlow fifths (205-8d) drew with Willow Herb. Josh Jerrom-Burns (52 not out) and Joe Barrett (42) top scored.

Willow Herb reached 178-4 in reply. Pick of the bowlers was Michael Prince (2-28).

Over the moon at Captain's Day triumph

PETER Overington won the Captain's Day competition at Harlow's Canons Brook Golf Club.

The eight handicapper triumphed with a stableford score of 43 points. He received the Captain's Day

Meanwhile, at the Adnams Open, which was attended by 108 golfers of which half were guests, the members' winning pair was Roy Croft and Dennis Mitchell with a score of 43 points.

The guest winners were Kevin Elkins and Steve Jones (Manor of Groves GC) with 41 points.

'I'm devastated' says Jo as gold medal slips away

ANDREW FRANZAK

reports live from Glasgow 2014

ENGLAND netball star Jo Harten has reflected on her pain at missing out on a place in the Commonwealth Games final – after a heartbreaking last-second defeat to New Zealand, the country where she plies her trade.

Harten, who went to school at St Mark's in Harlow, has been starring professionally in the antipodean country for the last couple of years, and came up against some of her Kia Magic team-mates in the semi-final loss to the Silver Ferns in Glasgow last Thursday.

The 25-year-old missed a crucial opportunity to wrap up the win against New Zealand, but could then only watch as this miss was compounded by a final goal for her opponents which secured a 35-34 win, and victory by the slimmest of margins.

Harten, who started at goal shooter but was switched to goal attack in the final quarter, finished the low-scoring game with 20 goals from 25 attempts.

She told the Star: "It's devastating, but we were right in the match – you can't ask for more than being one goal away from victory. It's something to be proud of."

"It was an up and down game. They are the defending Commonwealth champions so they know how to deal with pressure situations."

"They are a bit too smart to let us get too far ahead."

"They are fierce competitors, they have been in these situations time and again."

Of her change of position in the final quarter, Harten said: "I think it definitely worked."

"We had a bit of a lull in the third quarter and they started to get on top of us. The changes made an impact, but we couldn't finish it off as a team."

"We let them back in the game at

PAIN: Jo Harten is comforted by team-mates

several stages. We should have killed it off earlier on, against them you need a bigger lead."

"We had both had opportunities with 30 seconds to go, so it's disappointing."

"We're one of the fittest teams here, we know that, so fitness didn't play a part."

Harten disagreed with claims that England lacked that psychological belief needed to reach the Commonwealth Games final for the first time in the country's history.

"I'm not so sure it's a mental barrier against them, it's the physical pressure," she said.

"They're really good at pulling every trick out and turning the ball over and that's exactly what they did. They've got world class players."

But Harten is remaining upbeat. "It's a learning curve for us. It is a positive," she said.

"Looking back to Delhi [2010 Commonwealth Games when England also missed out on a medal] we were five or six [goals] away – now we're only one."

"You have to learn from that and really dominate the match tomorrow. There will be a lot of reflecting."

The Harlow ace was winning her 53rd cap against New Zealand.

England coach Anna Mayes said: "I was extremely proud going into this game and I am overwhelmed, that's how proud I am of them."

"I thought Jo had a sensational semi-final performance. Gutted is probably the word I'm going to use continuously."

"We will deal with it because I think you can't just skirt around it, we are quite emotional, we are gutted, because we genuinely believed we could take the semi-final and be playing off for gold."

Town stay in promotion hunt as they hit back from loss

THE mark of a good side is the way they bounce back from adversity, and Ashley Alderson's Harlow Town side recovered from a defeat for the second time in a month, as they recorded a comprehensive victory on Saturday.

The win left second-placed Harlow with a four-point cushion and a game in hand on third-placed Old Southendian in the race for the two promotion spots in division three of the Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League.

Having posted 255-9 from 50 overs, they crushed Benfleet (115 all out) by 140 runs.

Town, choosing to bat first, got off to a good start with Pat Yates (41) taking the attack to the bowlers and hitting several crisp boundaries.

Ramya Upadhyay batted sensibly for an excellent 73, before running himself out. Neil Gladwin (25) and Dan Farmer (25) chipped in as the hosts conjured a formidable total.

Town bowlers started superbly with Danny Calver picking up the three top order batsmen in a 10-over spell which saw him go for only 26 runs.

Town continued to pick up regular wickets with Shaun Alderson taking an excellent 4-43.

Andy Prophet (39) and Stephen Reeve (20) were the only batsmen to reach double figures for Benfleet on what proved to be a difficult wicket.

Shaun Alderson took the final wicket in the 39th over to end an excellent fielding and bowling display for Town.

Harlow Town's seconds (211-6) beat Benfleet twice (210) by four wickets and are joint top of their division with a game in hand.

Skipper Jason Gladwin, after losing every toss this year, sent out opening bowler Conor Fussell who ironically won the toss and decided to field.

With five players stuck on the M11, Benfleet bizarrely went for their shots early on and were soon in trouble at 50-3 with Fussell (3-39) taking all three.

The visitors recovered to 140-4 before Simon Rowell (5-49) and Graeme Eversden (2-69) ensuring they finished on 210 (Luke Slatford 70 not out).

In reply, Charlie Coleman hit a stylish 83 and Dan Baldwin struck 51 to see Town to a win which keeps them very much in the hunt for promotion.

Harlow Town's thirds (248-5) drew with Old Southendians & SCC (166-8) to maintain their promotion quest.

Jake Messenger (37) and Johan Cloete (62) posted 98 for the first wicket before debutant Vinesh Patel's innings of 45 took the score to a respectable level.

Vijay Avalveetil (40) got the Old Souths' innings off to a good start but Kevin Tilleard (3-22) left the visitors tottering on 93-6.

Christopher Pastfield hit an impressive 50 as Town were unable to find the last two wickets required to take the win.

Harlow Town's fourths (112) lost to Old Southendians & SCC (143) by 31 runs.

Four wickets and 44 runs for Daniel Dewey was not enough to save the fourths from defeat.

Arron Simpson (3-33) and Andrew Baars (2-5) helped the impressive Dewey (4-36) restrict the hosts.

In reply, Dewey's knock was the only highlight as Town were dismissed for a poor 112 with George Richardson (12) the only other batter to show resistance.

Ping pong club to host world champs

WITH table tennis undergoing a resurgence on the back of England's domination in the Commonwealth Games, what better time for the Harlow-based BATTs club to welcome two former world champions of the sport.

The club, based at the Norman Booth Leisure Centre in Old Harlow, will host Jan-Ove Waldner and Jorgen Persson from 10.30am, with coaching from the two ping-pong legends and exhibition matches from 1.30pm this Saturday.

England enjoyed a phenomenal Commonwealth Games at Glasgow, securing gold, silver and bronze medals in the mixed doubles.

BATTs general secretary Neil Brierley says the sport is flourishing and Harlow is widely recognised as one of the main homes for the sport in the UK, regularly hosting British Superleague matches. "The club seems to be booming. We have the England U-12 national champion [Ethan Walsh]. It was great to see England doing really well," Brierley said.

Swede Waldner was Olympic champion in Barcelona in 1992 and world champion in 1989 and 1997. Fellow Swede Persson was world champion in 1991 and European champ in 1986.

A free buffet will be served on the day as well.

Games heartbreak for luckless Harten

ANDREW FRANCAZAK

reports live from Glasgow 2014

HARLOW netball star Jo Harten missed out on a Commonwealth Games medal as England went down 52-48 to Jamaica in the netball bronze match in Glasgow on Sunday morning.

While the Hydro at the SECC wasn't quite full with the early morning start, the atmosphere inside the huge arena was rocking, with the English supporters vastly outnumbering the handful of exuberant Jamaicans.

The Jamaicans finished fourth at Delhi 2010 and Melbourne 2006 but they would not be denied this time, as England missed out on a third consecutive bronze medal.

It was more heartbreak for Harten and England, who lost their semi-final to New Zealand on Saturday and a pool match to world champions Australia, both by one point, in thrilling ties.

Jamaica's Romelda Aiken fired an impressive 44 goals from 52 attempts, with England defender Geva Mentor having trouble containing the towering sharpshooter.

Former St Mary's School student Harten, who slotted 26 goals from 29 shots (90 per cent), found it difficult to get into enough space to create the number of shooting chances she would have wanted.

Harten (25) posted on Instagram on Monday: "If you don't feel pain and hurt when you're at the lowest of lows, you don't deserve to experience true joy when at your highest."

"We are a good team, still on the way to great. Thanks for your overwhelming support."

England.

Jamaica led 25-24 at half-time in a match that hung in the balance until the final 90 seconds.

The Sunshine Girls held their cool to edge ahead 51-48 in the final minute and closed out the match, sparking wild celebrations among their ecstatic players.

England had conceded a heartbreaking late match-winning goal in their semi-final against New Zealand.

They also lost to eventual gold medal winners Australia in their group match, with a buzzer-beating goal after Harten missed a great chance at the other end.

England beat Wales, Trinidad & Tobago and Barbados in their other pool games.

Speaking straight after the loss to Jamaica, England coach Anna Mayes said: "Credit to the girls, they threw everything both physically and mentally out there in the semi-final and it was so unfortunate not to finish off that [New Zealand] game."

"And then today we were definitely coming out all guns blazing, but I think we were a bit tentative, a bit nervous particularly in that first half."

"We did wear them down in terms of defensively but we were not clinical enough when we needed to be."

Skipper Jade Clarke added: "It's disappointing. We got into a bit of a habit of being afraid to make mistakes and that was when mistakes come. We were consistent on defence and we have been this whole tournament but we couldn't finish it off."

"We will learn from this, we've had three massive pressure games and that is under the belt and we won't let this mistake happen again."

"It's a massive learning curve for us."

Conference 3G pitch U-turn's great news for Hawks' grand plans

HARLOW Town FC chief executive Tom Cunningham has expressed his delight at the Football Conference decision to give the green light to 3G pitches, as the Hawks supremo targets successive promotions.

Harlow get their Ryman division one north campaign under way with a trip to Redbridge this Saturday, followed by the first home game against Romford next Tuesday.

The goal for Harlow is promotion to the Ryman premier, and the club desperately want to move up another step to the Conference South, but this looked to be blocked by stubborn Conference board chiefs who vetoed plastic pitches last season.

After a U-turn this week, Cunningham said:

"It's great to hear that the Conference have approved 3G pitches. It is a decision that recognises the quality of 3G pitches now and the benefits they can provide for non-league clubs in terms of increased usage and income."

"The pitch we have installed at The Harlow Arena has transformed the club and the facilities. Most importantly it has enabled us to set up a thriving academy to inspire and coach the next generation of footballers, which wouldn't have been possible before. The Arena will be used all day, every day this coming season, incorporating youngsters learning new skills to the six-a-side teams trying to show off their old skills!"

"That has to be good for the future of the game. We are one of only two clubs in the country to have invested in a 3G pitch [along with Maidstone] and I am proud to have been at the forefront of this development."

The Hawks sealed a 4-0 home win against Huntingdon on Saturday. Alex Read and James Smith netted, while new signings Jared Small and David Kendall also scored.

Small has signed from Grays, while centre-half Kendall has switched from Enfield Town. Meanwhile, former Dagenham & Redbridge academy goalkeeper Tristan Hickman has joined the Hawks. The 19-year-old was released by the Daggers in the summer.

Midfielder Stan Muguo has left the club. He has gone to Ryman premier Enfield Town.
